The cover of the 2015 APN Annual Report highlights the 50th anniversary of the nurse practitioner role. Over the last several decades, Children’s Hospital and Health System has realized the contributions and impact of this advanced practice position in their expansion in all settings: inpatient, ambulatory, primary care and the community.

Today, our patients have complex health care needs. Both the nurse practitioner and the clinical nurse specialist have demonstrated their influence on patient and family outcomes, as well as staff development. This report is a compilation of the achievements of 193 Advanced Practice Nurses. Their work at the national, state and local levels is duly noted in the 39 publications, 206 presentations and countless hours of education, research, evidence-based practice/quality projects and community service.
